

This was brought to my attention by the K-Love website. There is so much violence and sexually explicit content on our TV stations and airwaves these days. K-Love is the only Christian station I get in this area and I would be lost without it. My children and I even listen to it at home. My two year old tries to sing along with the lyrics. This station has brought us an oasis from the awful day to day profanity found on other stations. It is a blessing. Our community would suffer greatly as I am obviously not the only listener in this area. It bring us peace and comfort in trying times. How can you seriously consider taking stations like this off the air yet allow other stations to use profanity and talk about sexual conduct on the air when our children are listening? We have just as much right to have a station to provide us with positive and encouraging music as the other people have a right to choose that other trash. Our children are our future and K-Love offers an alternative to the trash out there and helps to instill values and morals in a world that seems to be void of them otherwise.
